Pittsburg Woman Of 19 Is Drowned In Surf

Niece of Ocean Beach Folks Loses Life In Riptide

Riptide at the foot of Newport Ave. claimed another life Monday evening when Mrs. Patricia Ann Abbott, 19, of Pittsburg, Pa. was drowned in spite of efforts of lifeguards and the Ocean Beach police at the local sub-station to save her life. She was the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McConnell of 1430 Froude St.

Mrs. Abbott was a member of a beach party of nine that had gone to the beach about 6:30 p. m., taking their lunch along. Before eating they started for the surf and six of the group were wading but little above their knees when a huge wave struck and swept them out to sea.

In the party were Mrs. Abbott's mother, Mrs. Alice McConnell and her sister, Alice McConnell, 13, all from Pittsburg; and the following three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McConnell, Mrs. Frances Borlick, Theresa McConnell, 23, and Barbara McConnell, 13, all living at the Froude St., address; and three sailors, Joseph Marx Jr., 20, Frank DeMauro, 23, and Edward J. Staub, 23, all from the east and two of them friends from Pittsburg.

Recounting the story of the tragedy, Mrs. Borlick, who is an expert swimmer, being a former member of the Florence Chambers swimming class and of the San Diego club team, informed The News Wed. that "we had been out there only 15 minutes and were struck by an unusually heavy wave. Six of our party were washed out to sea and Mrs. Abbott and Marx were carried out the farthest. We were seen by an unidentified man on the cliff near the fishing pier and by him the police were notified. It seemed like a half an hour before help arrived by boat and by that time both Mrs. Abbott and Marx were drowning. Staub and Alice also had trouble but managed to get ashore. Marx, who first tried to rescue Mrs. Abbott, was screaming for help as he went down for a third time. Frank "Tiny" DeMauro, a former Holy Cross football player, finally reached Mrs. Abbott and brought her to shore. When police help arrived by boat, Staub got in the boat with them and pulled the unconscious Marx out of the surf. Only Mrs. Abbott and Marx were unconscious."

Officers E. W. Roehmholdt and H. R. Charman manned the lifeboat and Capt. Al Penrose of the city fire marshal's office, who happened to be nearby, also assisted with the rescue. Local lifeguards called from their homes administered artificial respiration, but were unable to save Mrs. Abbott. Marx was revived and taken to the Naval Hospital. He is reported to be O. K. again.

The body of Mrs. Abbott left here Wednesday, accompanied by her cousin, Theresa McConnell, for Pittsburg, where the funeral and burial will take place. Mrs. Abbott's husband, John Warren Abbott of USS Gurke, is flying from Seattle to Pittsburg to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Abbott had been here for three months and her mother and sister for two weeks and all three had expected to visit at the McConnell home here for a month longer.

Four servicemen in another party, who happened to be in swimming at the same time, also were caught in the same riptide and had to be pulled from the surf. They were Jack Williams, 25, of the Marine Corps; Thos. J. Shather, 17, James A. Rollins, 18, and Wm. A. Stevenson, 18, all of the Navy.

"As it happened the telephone service was out of order at the same time and considerable difficulty was experienced in getting word to us," Mrs. Alexander McConnell told The News Wednesday. Her husband is a chief ship's clerk in the Navy and is stationed at Camp Elliott.

Mrs. Ray Bromley from Marysville, Calif., arrived Monday for a two weeks visit at the home of her mother, Mrs. A. L. Jordan, 4327 Voltaire St.

First Practice For Softball Is Set For 1 P. M. Today

Organization meeting for the Kiwanis-sponsored boys softball league has been set for Friday (today) at one o'clock, Chairman Martin Murphy of the club's committee on boys and girls work, announced this week. Due to misunderstanding many of the boys appeared Saturday and others Monday for their first practice session, with result that plans for the league play were not all completed.

Murphy says that all plans are now ready for the first practice session today at 1 p. m. at the grade school playgrounds and that the first practice session will then be held.

Thus far 47 boys have been enrolled and enough others to fill out six teams are expected. He is asking the boys to bring other boys of 12 to 17 inclusive along with them today. Each team is to be sponsored by a local merchant.

Plan of selection of the teams will be on a basis of having them as evenly matched as possible in order to make the play as interesting as possible to all concerned.

The program includes 20 vaudeville acts and a chorus of 40 people. Rehearsals are being held nightly, with Coach Clarence Dersch in charge.

Printed programs are being prepared, with local merchants assisting in their financing.

Fred Edwards, who is working on publicity and specialties, stated early this week that he was hoping a street parade could be staged. He learned later that a special permit would have to be obtained from the city, and stated there was some question whether or not this could be arranged.

Pat O'Brien, Hollywood film star, also was contacted Saturday for an appearance here at the minstrel show and Pat replied that it "would be a cinch if this were peacetime. Now all my spare performances are given to the war effort," he said.

Jo's Flower Shop on Newport Ave. is the place for the seats to be reserved, announces Mr. Edwards.

S. G. Fold of Ocean Beach is employed at the Del Mar race track as a deputy sheriff. Sheriff Bert Strand maintains a force of deputies, with headquarters on the grounds. Architects Drawing of Recreation Building Shown

Council Passes Resolution To Call For Building Bids

San Diego City Council Tuesday passed a resolution authorizing the city purchasing agent to call for bids for construction of the $57,000 Recreation center building for Ocean Beach. Keen competition among the bidders is expected which should result in a comparatively low bid by the successful contractor. Copies of the plans and specifications were completed last week.

Pictured above is the drawing of the new building as made by Architects Templeton Johnson and Harold Abrams. The plans call for a building with 109 foot frontage on Santa Monica Ave., and with a depth of 86 feet for the main central part of the structure.

Main room for the combined gymnasium-auditorium is 54 feet by 57 feet 8 inches, with high ceiling provided for, according to the plans prepared. This particular room may be larger by a floor space of 57 feet 8 inches by 18 feet, 2 inches should the successful bid be low enough, since the bidders can submit alternate bids for this extra floor space.

The main entrance is to open into the gym through a lobby. To the left of the lobby entrance the plans call for two youth activity rooms and to the right the plans show an office, a storage room and an adult lounge room. To the left of the gymn is shown the kitchen and to the right the rest rooms and another storage room.

North of the gym is shown, in outline, the place for a future addition to the building which, when and if built, would expand the structure all the way to the alley.

According to the plans the grounds to the right of the center building are mapped out as follows:

Future Volley ball court 30x 60 feet, future badminton court 45x76 feet, future paddle tennis court, 18x39 feet, and two future shuffle board courts each 18x52 feet. The cost of preparing these courts for play is not included in the bids now asked for.

The plans call for a one-story re-inforced concrete structure with basement heating plant and a composition roof. The gym will have a pitched roof. Tile in both kitchen and the front entrance is provided for. The basement will have toilet rooms but no other rooms for general use.

Site for this community center is lots 15 to 21 inclusive of block 31 and bordered on the south by Santa Monica Ave. and on the east by Ebers St. The building will set in about 20 feet from the Santa Monica Ave. sidewalk, according to the plans.

77 Babies Born In Door Of Hope Home Last Year

Kiwanis Club Given Data On Home For Unwed Mothers

Seventy-seven babies were born, and with their mothers, were taken care of at the Salvation Army Door of Hope Home in Ocean Beach on Bolinas St. during last year, Adj. Birdie Martin, superintendent of the home, told the Kiwanis club Tuesday evening. One fourth of the number were placed for adoption though they were not placed by the Door of Hope. "In fact, we are not a child placing agency," Adj. Martin emphasized.

"Our purpose," she said, "is not only to provide a temporary home for these girls and to give them the necessary medical care, but our first concern is to re-establish their characters, to help them into better habits of life and to realize that there is a better way to live." She stated that the average age of the girls in this home last year was 17 and 18, that the oldest was 29 and the youngest only 12 years old.

The occasion was the second annual meeting of the Kiwanis club, held at this home, which has been chosen as one of the club's main charitable objectives. A baby incubator, also furniture have been given to the home by the club during the past year. Adj. Martin, in behalf of the home, said "We appreciate this help from the very depths of our hearts."

Phinney S. Packard, chairman of the home's board of directors, also spoke. He emphasized that in this home "We are dealing with the most precious thing in the world—human life," as he expressed it. "No coercion and no pressure is brought on the girls here," he said. "The Door of Hope Society was started in San Diego in 1897 and this home was built in 1915," he said. "In 1831 the Salvation Army was invited by the city to take it over and did so."

He announced that the services of Milton Sessions, noted San Diego landscape architect, have been obtained and plans have been drawn by him for the improvement of the grounds about the home. Some of this work already is under way.

President Jerry Sullivan spoke briefly in behalf of the club, stating that the Kiwanians appreciate the opportunity that this home offers them to be of community service. Capt. Burritt S. Mills was chairman of the evening. Vocal solos by Mrs. Grace Chapman and trumpet solos by Alec Nicol, pharmacist's mate in the Navy, featured the musical program. They were accompanied by Mrs. E. G. Roberts.

Lack Of Men And Materials Delays Local Water Main

The American Pipe & Construction Co., of Los Angeles, which has the contract for the $50,000 job of installing the Point Loma water main from the Point Loma reservoir into the Sunset Cliffs section of Ocean Beach has asked the city for a 45-day extension of the completion date on this project.

City Clerk Fred Sick reports receipt of a letter from the firm stating that "federal restrictions on labor and materials have made it impossible for us to fabricate and install this pipeline within the allotted period of 45 days."

By this week the project is about half complete, reports Earl F. Thomas, city water department superintendent. When finished, he says, this new line will provide considerably improved domestic water service to a large section of Ocean Beach.

Boy Scouts Home From 2 Weeks Of Summer Camping

Story of the two weeks summer camping experience of 15 Ocean Beach Boy Scouts of Troop 28 was told to The News this week by Scoutmaster Carlton Bingham as follows:

Fifteen members and Scoutmaster of Troop 28 arrived at Camp Haul-cu-cush in the Cuyamaca mountains, an elevation of 4,800 feet around 10 a. m. Tuesday, July 3. The camp is located about 54 miles from San Diego and 61 miles from Ocean Beach. The rest of the day was spent checking in and getting settled. That night which is one of the regular Camp Fire nights, some of the boys took part in the program.

Wednesday morning some of the boys started training for Swimming and Life Saving merit badges which were passed satisfactorily later in the week. That night all went to Cuyamaca Peak some 15 miles up and back to watch the fireworks from the Firemen's Circus in San Diego, but as the ranger on duty in the Fire Lookout tower was just coming off duty we did not stay long. He invited us back again and said he would explain the methods used in locating forest fires. Cuyamaca peak has an elevation of 6,515 feet, being the highest peak in San Diego county with the lookout tower 30 feet above the ground, affording an excellent view of the surrounding country. Some of the boys who needed their 14 mile hike or observation trip towards first class passed satisfactorily.

While not taking part in the swimming or Life Saving classes, they worked at leather handicraft making coin purses, bill folds, knife sheaths, belts, etc. Others worked at tests required for second and first class scouts. All had the opportunity to go swimming each afternoon from 2 to 4 p. m.

Thursday evening one of the Forestry men from the Cuyamaca ranger station spoke to the boys about forest fires, their prevention, as well as their cause and methods used to fight them.

Friday morning all went to Stonewall peak, an elevation of 5,000 feet to see the sun rise, leaving camp around 3:30 a. m. and returning there around 6:30 a. m., a distance of about six miles round trip. There is a road from Camp to Cuyamaca peak for use of the Forestry Service, but from the highway to Stonewall peak there is only a path and in some places not much of one at that.

Friday night at Camp Fire several of the boys took part in the program by putting on a little play called "The Secret." The "Secret" was: "There is no hot water in the South Kibo." Also on Monday night several of the boys took part in the program.

Sunday being visitors day all looked forward to seeing some one from home. Each Sunday afternoon at the swimming pool they have races and on Sunday, July 8 Troop 28 came in second with a score of 21 points. First place was 22 points.

Tuesday morning, July 10, eight of the boys and their scoutmaster returned home while the remaining seven stayed over for the second week. Being Ocean Beach was unable to furnish an adult leader for these boys, Mr. Scott, scoutmaster of Troop 29 located at Pacific Beach, kindly consented to look after them in addition to his own boys. A person will never realize how much pleasure and good a boy gets out of camp until he has spent at least one week with them.

The swimming races held Sunday, July 15, were won by Troop 83 with a score of 32 points.

During the first week the boys were at camp there were 13 badges and 15 other tests passed, and the second week there were 4 Merit badges and six other tests passed. All Merit badges passed these two weeks at Camp are required for "Eagle," the rank every Scout hopes some day to obtain. Most of the tests passed were for First Class scouting. It is customary each year to award camper ratings to the boys before they leave for home. The following boys received "Honor Camper" awards:

Louis Bingham, Dick Drummet, Ralph Gastellum, Jim Hart, Crommer Hubbard, Howard Mayfield, Linden Raney and Garret Vedder. "Good Camper" awards went to Charles Deal, Don Roy Hammond, Verlyn Miller, Robert Plant, Burt Skinner, Ramon Vose and Richard West.

After each meal there is a good old fashioned song period with a lot of the old Camp songs being sung. Also before each meal, "Grace" is sung by all. All of the boys as well as the Scoutmaster had a good time and are looking forward to at least one week up there again next summer.

Ocean Beach Pilot Awarded D.F.C. At ATC Base In India

Air Transport Command Base, India—Sec. Lieut. William B. Steel, co-pilot, of 1679 Cable St., Ocean Beach, Calif., has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, announces Brig. Gen. William H. Tunner, commanding general of the India China Division, Air Transport Command.

The award was made upon completion of 300 hours of operational flight in transport aircraft over the dangerous and difficult India-China air routes, where enemy interception and attack was probable and expected. The air trail over the "Hump," famed route through the towering peaks of the Himalaya mountains, blazed by the Air Transport Command, is recognized by airmen as the world's toughest. Today the "Hump" route is the main lifestream of vital military supplies for the Allied forces fighting the Japanese in China.

The citation accompanying the award adds:

"Flying at night as well as by day, at high altitudes over impassable mountainous terrain thru areas characterized by extremely treacherous weather conditions necessitating long periods of operation on instruments . . . requiring courageous and superior performance of his duties to overcome, he accomplished his mission with distinction . . . "

The award was made for the period of service from August 18, 1944 to March 31, 1945.

Silver Star Medal Awarded Director Radio-Sound Lab.

Rewarded for his conspicuous gallantry during South Pacific action in March, 1943, Capt. Paul W. Hord, USN, director of the Navy's Radio and Sound Laboratory, PoPint Loma, was decorated with the Silver Star medal today in the offices of Read Admiral W. L. Friedell, USN, Commandant of the Eleventh Naval district.

A lieutenant commander at the time of the action he was cited for his work as navigation officer of a cruiser operating in a task force which was bombarding enemy installations on Kolombangara in the British Solomon Islands.

While proceeding through Kula Gulf to the target area, the American force engaged and sank two enemy destroyers, and Captain Hord was credited with contributing materially to the success of the mission by his skilful navigation and timely discovery of the Jap ships.

Since the start of the war, Captain Hord has served with cruisers and destroyers in the Pacific and has had considerable experience in technical fields.

A native of Campbellsville, Ky., he is a graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy, class of 1925.

Reducing Diets
Often Include Buttermilk
Why?

Doctors and dietitians often include buttermilk in reducing diets. That's because it is rich in muscle-building protein, yet low in carbohydrates and fats. Buttermilk also provides the body with all the mineral elements contained in whole milk, particularly calcium and phosphorus.
But whether or not you are interested in reducing, you'll love the tantalizing, slightly acid flavor and creamy consistency of real churned, old fashioned Qualitee Buttermilk.
Drink it ice cold—with lunch, with dinner, in between or at bedtime—TODAY.

WAR MEMORIALS—

After the War Between the States, there sprang up like mushrooms all over the United States millions of dollars' worth of statues in commemoration of the heroes of that great struggle.

Mostly they ran to generals mounted on huge horses, with unsheathed swords in hand. With a fanfare of trumpets and a long speech by a local orator, each statue was unveiled and was a ten-day wonder and pride of the townspeople.

After a few years, sparrows built their nests in the general's whiskers, and his outstretched sword became a roosting place for the pigeons. The youth of the community, who were supposed to be aroused to patriotism by the sight of the granite general, asked each other, "Who is the old guy on the horse?"

Of doubtful artistic merit, a total failure as a means of arousing patriotism in the breasts of the youth of the nation, they stand to this day as lettered monuments to forgotten heroes, as gravestones over the dead and gone past.

At the close of World War One, history repeated itself to a certain extent, except that the generals no longer rode horses. The new statues were supposed to symbolize the American soldier, and they stood stiffly at attention in the dreary rain and the hot sunshine and symbolized nothing so much as wasted money and mistaken sentiment.

In the heart and mind of every human being is the desire to show appreciation for the men who have fought and died for us. This desire should be encouraged, but it should not be misdirected.

Now that Germany is disintegrated, and we can hope for an early defeat of Japan, we know that soon our boys will come marching home. Filled with patriotism and admiration for our heroes, we will raise a universal demand for memorials to their sacrifice.

When the demand comes, no organization will be called on more than Kiwanis to help raise the money and provide ideas. No one organization will have more influence over the kind of memorials we will build for the heroes of this war.

It is high time we started thinking of the form these memorials will take. Certainly there are more practical memorials than the ones we have erected in the past. A swimming pool for the children of the town is a much more fitting memorial than another bronze general on his bronze horse. Let's do something for the children instead of erecting a roost for the pigeons—Kiwanis Magazine.

VETERANS DESERVE BETTER—

The Orange Daily News calls attention to the fact that while most employers are gladly welcoming veterans back to their old jobs, more than 29,000 discharged service men who were able to work and who had applied for work, were unemployed during the last week reported—and were receiving doles under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

If the facts were known, it is probable the majority of these unemployed veterans were young men who left schools and colleges to enter the service and who therefore had no pre-war jobs to come back to. There are several million men in Uncle Sam's armed forces who are in this category—and certainly they have just as much moral right to a job and an opportunity to establish themselves in civilian life as older men who left the trades and professions to enter the service.

"The automotive business was hopeful of offering veterans many more than the 200,000 jobs they previously held but the AFL and CIO challenge that suggestion. They insist that priority be given to employees now on the job. This means that the 1,400,000 persons working for the industry during the war—many as war workers—will have legal claims to the 1,100,000 jobs expected to be available. Only veterans who worked in the industry before the war will have much of a chance for the jobs."

The War Production Board, in response to union protests, is said to have issued a confidential memorandum advising the automotive industry that its plan to hire veterans "might tend to increase labor turnover, undermine the seniority system and otherwise disturb labor relations." If true, that is an amazing policy—and one that certainly doesn't measure up to the promises we made our service men at the war's outset. Men who risked their lives for their country should be entitled to at least equal "seniority" with those who stayed at home.

Clarke Recalls His Decoration Of N.P. Celebration Train

Pioneer history of the Northern Pacific railroad was recalled this week by John Clarke of 4761 Niagara Ave. when he brought in pictorial clippings from Brainerd, Minn. newspapers, showing the special excursion train on which Gen. U. S. Grant rode through Brainerd to Portland, Ore. in 1883. Clarke and his brother, Fred, had decorated the engine. At that time Clark was an apprentice boilermaker in the railroad's shops at Brainerd.

The picture shows the train while it was stopped in Brainerd enroute to Gold Creek, Mont. for the celebration of Sept. 8, 1883. The celebration was for the completion of the Northern Pacific's transcontinental railroad through to the Pacific northwest coast and the golden spike ceremonies were held at the point in Montana where the construction crews working from east and west had met.

In the picture also is reproduced an inset note written by General Grant, which gave the following instructions to a hotel clerk in Portland:

"Will the gentleman at the office please see that my trunk goes on the second section? It is downstairs and has my name on it. The satchel and coats with it in the office I will take with me when I go."

Clarke, who spent seven years as an apprentice at Brainerd, learning to be a boilermaker, was a railroad man for 45 years, 23 of which were with the Northern Pacific and 14 of it with the Santa Fe. He also worked as a machinist for Uncle Sam, four years at Mare Island and five years at La Playa on Point Loma.

Ocean Beach Camp & Hospital

By ONA E. PITCOCK
Phone B.5639

This week I am asking the clubs, churches, societies and mothers of Ocean Beach to help our men at the front.

You know what Christmas means to Americans and our boys away from home. In order that enough Christmas tree decorations can be made we must start making them now.

We have the samples here at your Center and would like to have you send someone up to see them and get patterns and material. The work can be done in your own home or you can form classes and several work together.

Children can make the chains of bright colored paper which we will furnish. The little "angels" are easily made and so are the stockings.

Please come up and see these samples and help as we need so many not only for overseas but for our Camps and Hospitals in America.

Save your can lids and rolls from inside paper towels and also spools. We need your burned out light bulbs.

Ward 212 at the Naval Hospital would like a show case or set of shelves to display the articles they make. Will some-one please donate these.

Books, books and more books are needed. Magazines, not older than two months, are badly needed.

This is USO work as well as Red Cross. Will everybody who can please help to make Christmas as bright as possible for our boys.

Also we want help in making succulent gardens. We have material here at the Center, 4769 Del Monte Ave.

WAVE Dorothy Tackett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Buck of Ocean Beach, was in the limelight Saturday for her outstanding work in the communications office of the Naval hospital. She is reported to have answered nearly a million questions about patients in the two years she has been a WAVE.

AMERICAN HEROES

by WOODY COWAN

WITH the crew of a tank destroyer held up by withering enemy fire at Villa Coocetta, Cpt. William W. Galt of Great Falls, Mont., jumped in and directed an attack on a 77-mm antitank gun. Advancing fully exposed, he discharged a machine gun and threw hand grenades until the enemy became disorganized. He died from a shell burst, and was awarded the Medal of Honor posthumously. Don't blame your I.E.S. type lamp for

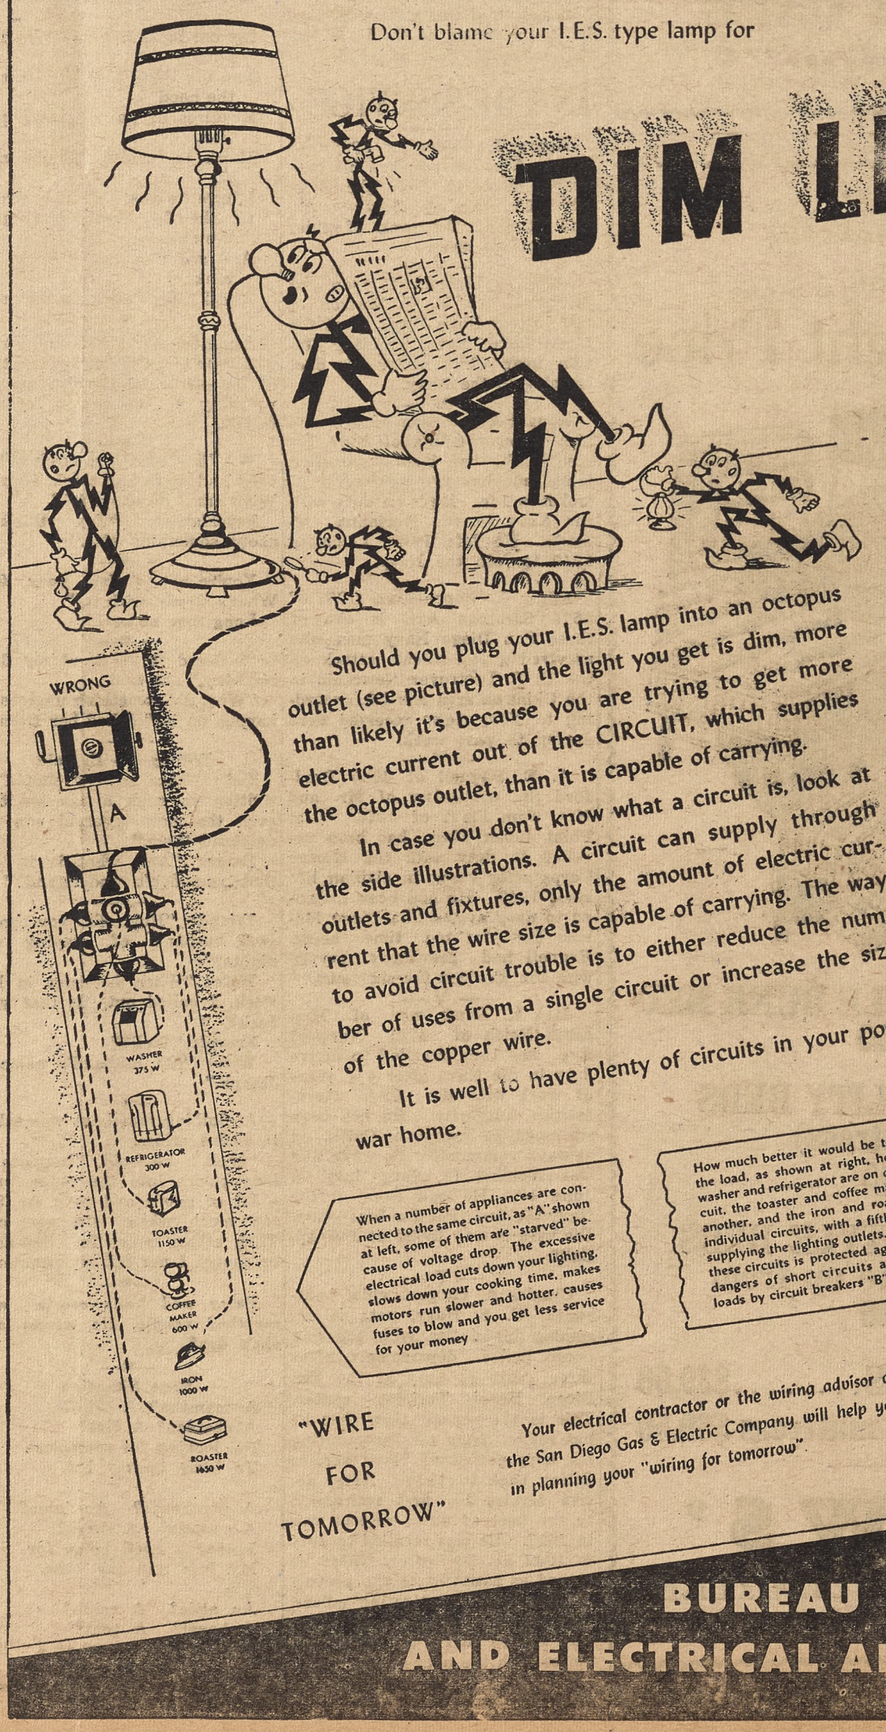
DIM LIGHT



Should you plug your I.E.S. lamp into an octopus outlet (see picture) and the light you get is dim, more than likely it's because you are trying to get more electric current out of the CIRCUIT, which supplies the octopus outlet, than it is capable of carrying.

In case you don't know what a circuit is, look at the side illustrations. A circuit can supply through outlets and fixtures, only the amount of electric current that the wire size is capable of carrying. The way to avoid circuit trouble is to either reduce the number of uses from a single circuit or increase the size of the copper wire.

It is well to have plenty of circuits in your postwar home.

When a number of appliances are connected to the same circuit, as "A" shown at left, some of them are "starved" because of voltage drop. The excessive electrical load cuts down your lighting, slows down your cooking time, makes motors run slower and hotter, causes fuses to blow and you get less service for your money.

How much better it would be to split the load, as shown at right, here the washer and refrigerator are on one circuit, the toaster and coffee maker on another, and the iron and roaster on individual circuits, with a fifth circuit supplying the lighting outlets. Each of these circuits is protected against the dangers of short circuits and overloads by circuit breakers "B".

He attended Point Loma high school but due to his great admiration for his coach, Mr. Berkley, he transferred to San Diego High School where he graduated. His greatest athletic abilities were discovered in football. Paul's brother, 2nd Lieut. Wally Isom, whose wife, Betty Jo makes her home at the Lotus St. address, was last heard from somewhere in France. He has been overseas approximately a year and spent that time in Air Borne forces. Although both boys were in the same country overseas, they never were able to get together. Wally, too, expects to soon be able to return home.

Corp. Merle Austin Weds Mary Snyder At Church July 12

Corp. Merle L. Austin Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle L. Austin of 1991 Ebers St. and Miss Mary Mae Snyder, daughter of Maior Wm. K. Snyder, USMC and Mrs. Snyder, 3236 Curtis St., were united in marriage Thursday evening, July 12, in Brooklyn Heights Presbyterian church, San Diego. Both bride and groom are Point Loma high school graduates and the bride also attended State College.

Wm. K. Snyder Jr., gave the bride away in the absence of her father who is on overseas duty. Rev. Dallas Turner performed the ceremony before an altar lighted with tapers in tall candelabra. Decorations were white gladioli and palms, with bouquets and ribbon streamers.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Wm. K. Snyder as matron of honor and Pfc. Fred Barner as best man. Allen Brophy, Frank Davis and George Nesbitt ushered.

The bride was charming in a gown of brocaded slipper satin fashioned with long train and trimmed with bow knots. Her long veil was lace trimmed and fell from a seed pearl coronet. White orchids centered her bouquet of white gladioli blooms.

Mrs. Synder, as matron of honor, wore pale pink chiffon and carried deep red roses. The Misses Irene Schmidt, Dawn Brophy and Barbara Leibensperger, as bridesmaids, all wore gowns of white lace, sweet heart hats and carried pink roses. Margaret Archibald, as flower girl, wore pink chiffon and carried rose petals.

In honor of the couple a reception was held at the church for 150 guests, at which Mrs. Austin wore an aqua marine jersey and eyelet frock and Mrs. Snyder a sky blue lace gown. The bride's going away outfit was a green suit with white accessories. Following a brief honeymoon trip to Los Angeles, the couple will travel to Tampa, Fla., where the groom is to be stationed.

Marriage Of Miss Lillian Campbell July 7 Announced

Marriage of Miss Lillian Christine Campbell, former Ocean Beach resident, and Donald L. Rasmason, gunner's mate 3/c, held at Annapolis, Calif. July 7, was announced this week by her grandmother, Mrs. R. L. Dewees, 4631 Pescadero Ave. on the latter's return home after attending the wedding. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hensler who lived here for several years on Coronado Ave. She attended both the lower grades and Point Loma high school here.

The wedding took place in the garden of the Hensler home at Annapolis in front of an altar beautifully decorated with ferns, chrysanthemums and pastel gladioli. Mr. Hensler gave his daughter in marriage. She wore sheer crepe with lace trim and long sleeves, sweetheart cut, with a cut pearl tiara holding her finger tip veil.

Miss Marion Nance of Ocean Beach, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and wore tea rose net over tea rose satin and carried deep pink gladioli. Miss Letha Rasmason, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and wore powder blue crepe, carrying peach gladioli.

Lieut. Davidson of San Francisco was best man. Mrs. Ernest Olson played the wedding march.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Hensler home, with 70 guests attending. Mrs. Phil Campbell, cousin of the bride, and her baby daughter Karen of Santa Rosa also were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hume Jr. of Ocean Beach are the parents of a baby boy, born Monday night, July 16, at Scripps hospital in La Jolla. The little lad is the first born of Mr. and Mrs. Hume Jr. and the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hume Sr. of 2074 Abbott St. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. R.
